Company statement regarding:

The EU directive 2017/2102/EU (RoHS 3)
and

The candidate list SVHC 240 of December 1, 2023
of EC Regulation Number 1907/2006 (“REACH”)

From mid June 2005, all soldering at Lundahl Transformers is carried out with lead-free solder. We have also ensured from our suppliers that all materials used in production of our transformers are RoHS-compliant. Thus, all transformers manufactured after July 1, 2005 are RoHS compliant.

All Lundahl RoHS-compliant transformers are market with an encircled “F” on the label, except in some very rare cases (e.g. LL6404, LL1572, LL1574....) where the label is too small to accommodate anything but the product number.

In our products or production process, concentration of any substances listed in the above REACH regulation are well below threshold levels.

This statement is based solely on information from our suppliers and is not based on chemical analysis of our finished products.
