Company statement regarding Conflict Minerals (tin, tungsten, tantalum and gold)

Our company policy is to not use any minerals originated from conflict areas. Out of the four conflict minerals, only tin is used in our products and manufacturing process.

All tin used in our products are bought from the company

NIHON ALMIT CO.,LTD.,

2-14-2 Yayoi-cho,

Nakano-ku,

Tokyo 164-8666,

Japan.

Nihon Almit declares that they do not use raw materials that originate from conflict regions.

On the Nihon Almit web site (www.almit.co.jp, scroll down to Environmental Policy) the following statement is published:

“We do not use raw materials that originate from the conflict regions of the Democratic Republic of Congo and its surrounding countries. If we recognize that raw materials originating from conflict regions are used, we immediately discontinue the purchase thereof.”
